Camp Outcomes

Students learn in many different ways. The experience of living away from home with a group of people provides students with opportunities for the development of independence and self-care skills.

Students on camp will learn independence and self-care skills including personal hygiene, housekeeping, environmental care, safety, Australian history, outdoor games, sports and personal development. Our school camp also provides a unique environment for social development. Social interaction and cooperation is encouraged in a relaxed and supportive atmosphere.

As a result of their involvement in the Camp, students will demonstrate:

- That they can satisfy their personal needs in an appropriate manner. E.g. hygiene, toileting, care of belongings.
- That they can be a team member and contribute in a team setting.
- Appropriate behaviour in a number of settings.
- Personal growth in self-reliance, confidence, independence and leadership.
- A basic understanding of self-belief, self-esteem and trust.
- An attitude toward a healthy lifestyle and being active every day.

Personal Goals

- To develop an awareness of the importance of a healthy lifestyle and life long activity.
- To provide opportunities for social interaction and teamwork.
- For all students to experience situations that expand their horizons and challenge their attitudes, expectations and understandings of themselves.
